A history of Beijing on a postcard

Beijing Postcard

Written in the Cards

Selling photos collected over the years from flea markets, auctions and even private collections, this store may be the most historical spot on Nanluoguxiang. The photos taken and printed on these cards (¥5) date as old as a century, and the short descriptions on the back give a concise history. Collectors can get antique maps in good condition for ¥800. Ask Beijing Postcard to enlarge and frame your favorite photo or pick up accessories like a handbag (¥80-100) or calendar (¥50), all featuring lao Beijing scenes.
